

Mayor Bosse Invited to Antisemitism Summit in Athens

BY ANA FIGUEROA

Beverly Hills Mayor Lili Bosse will attend the Mayors Summit Against Antisemitism in Athens, Greece from Nov. 30 to Dec. 1. Chaired by Athens Mayor Kostas Bakoyannis, in partnership with the Combat Antisemitism Movement (CAM), the event is co-hosted by the Center for Jewish Impact and the Jewish Federations of North America.

The summit's mission is to present strategies, exchange ideas and create partnerships among municipal leaders united with a common purpose: to fight antisemitism.

For Bosse, the child of Holocaust survivors, it is destiny.

"This is something I'm very, very, very passionate about. It's part of who I am," Bosse told the Courier.

The topic is one of increasing concern

Mayor Lili Bosse

on both the local and global stage. Here in the United States, incidents of antisemitism continue to rise, according to statistics from

See BOSSE INVITED, page 17